THE REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S REPORT TO THE HONORABLE THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

Registrar-General's Department,
Sydney, 15 October, 1884.

Sir,

The several parts of the Statistical Register for 1883 having been already forwarded to you and presented to Parliament, I now do myself the honor to submit my Report thereon.

PART I.

POPULATION, IMMIGRATION, &c.

Population.

It was estimated that the population on the 31st December, 1883, was 869,310, namely, 480,497 males and 388,813 females, being an increase of 51,842 since the previous year, or at the rate of 6·34 per cent. The increase during the year ended 31st December, 1882, was at the rate of 4·63 per cent., by which it will be seen that the rate of augmentation of the population last year exceeded the previous twelve months by no less than 1·71 per cent. The natural increase by births over deaths was 19,032, and that by immigration over emigration was 32,810, so far as it could be ascertained; but in this respect there is always an element of uncertainty, inasmuch as thousands of persons cross the borders of the Colony of which no record can be kept. It is believed, however, that the figures given above will be below the actual numbers, and that the population is increasing at even a greater rate than is shown by the tables. The percentage of males over females has increased during the year, the proportions being 55·27 per cent. for the males and 44·73 per cent. for the females, as against 54·71 and 45·29 per cent. respectively at the close of the year 1882. This is accounted for by the large number of male adults who have arrived in the Colony during the year 1883.

The Decennial Returns of the Population of the Colony, and of the numbers of Marriages, Births, and Deaths, as also the number of Marriages celebrated by each of the religious denominations and by Registrars, will be found on pages 2 and 3.

There

Marriages. There were 7,405 Marriages celebrated in 1883, as against 6,948 in 1882, being an increase of 457 on the previous year. This, however, is a falling off in the rate of increase of marriages, inasmuch as there were 664 more Marriages in 1882 than in 1881, while 1881 exceeded 1880 by 712. The number of celebrations has increased in all the principal Churches, with the exception of the Presbyterian, in which there was a falling off of 5 during the year.

Births. The Births registered in 1883 numbered 31,281, showing an excess of 1,579 over the Births of the previous year. The excess of Births in 1882 over those of 1881 was 709, by which it will be seen that the increase was more than doubled in 1883.

Deaths. The Deaths registered in 1883 numbered 12,249, while in 1882 there were 12,816, showing a decrease during the year of 567, notwithstanding the increase of the population.

Immigration. The total number of Immigrants who arrived in the Colony seaward during the year was 67,206; of this number 58,837, including 1,936 Chinese, came to the Colony at their own expense, and 8,369 were introduced at the public expense under the "Regulations for Assisted Immigration." The following numbers show the nationality of the assisted Immigrants, viz.:—England and Wales, 5,382; Scotland, 937; Ireland, 1,903; and other countries, 147. Of these, 6,442 were Protestants, 1,758 Roman Catholics, and 169 belonged to other religious persuasions.

Emigration. The number of persons who left the Colony by sea during the year 1883 was 34,396, so that the gain to the Colony by excess of Immigration over Emigration was 32,810 persons, as against an excess of the previous year of 19,317. What the Colony may have gained by migration between the other Colonies overland there are no means of ascertaining.

Charitable Institutions Hospitals. Return No. 8 shows the number of charitable institutions in the Colony. Of the 60 Hospitals, 4 of them have not furnished the information required; but of the remaining 56 the number of persons admitted, discharged, and who died is shown, as also the receipts and disbursements thereof. The number of cases admitted into the Sydney Hospital during the year 1883 was 3,118. There were 2,796 patients discharged, and 309 died. On the 31st December there remained in that Institution 221 persons. 8,904 paupers had received out-door relief during the twelve months. The receipts in aid of the Sydney Hospital during the year were as follows:—From the Colonial Treasury, £30,377; and from voluntary contributions, fees, &c., £4,575, making a total of £34,952. The total disbursements amounted to £37,772, but this included £18,057 expended on the building. The aggregate number of admissions to the other Hospitals from which returns have been furnished was 4,567. There were also 4,063 discharges and 487 deaths. The receipts for these Institutions during the year 1883 were £45,722; namely, £20,795 from the Treasury, and £24,927 from voluntary contributions, fees, &c. The disbursements amounted to £46,186, which included £10,609 expended on the Hospital buildings. The gross amount received for the Hospitals of the Colony during the year was £80,675, of which £51,172 was paid from the Treasury, and £29,503 from voluntary contributions, &c.

Benevolent Asylums, &c. For Benevolent Asylums the total amount received for the year was £30,407, of which amount £29,012 was contributed from the Public Treasury, and £1,395 was raised from voluntary subscriptions, &c. This shows a falling off in voluntary aid of £1,482 as compared with the previous year. The cost of maintaining the three establishments at Hyde Park (Sydney), Parramatta, and Liverpool amounted to £19,078.

The total number of admissions to the Benevolent Institutions during the the year (including 350 children and births) was 3,476, and the number of discharges (including 488 children) was 3,187. There were 492 deaths, and at the close of the year there were 1,835 persons remaining.

The two Benevolent Societies at Bega and West Maitland were maintained at a cost of £618. The receipts towards their support were £690, of which amount £248 was paid to the West Maitland Institution from the Public Treasury; the remainder was raised by voluntary contributions. The Bega Society afforded out-door relief only, to 27 persons, at a cost of £33. In the Maitland Institutions, 37 were admitted during the year, 33 were discharged, and 1 died. There were 16 remaining at the end of the year. In addition to these, out-door relief was afforded to 218 persons.

To the Orphan and Industrial Schools, 9 in number, the Public Treasury contributed £27,880, and the sum of £11,104 was the result of voluntary contributions, fines, fees, &c. Out of the latter sum £210 was received by the Sydney Female School of Industry, which institution does not receive any support from the Treasury. The number of inmates in these institutions on the 31st December, 1882, was 1,999. There were 449 admitted, 633 discharged, and 20 died during the year 1883, leaving 1,735 on the rolls on the 31st December. Orphan and Industrial Schools.

At the beginning of the year 1883, the total number of insane persons in the various Hospitals for the Insane was 2,307, namely, 1,430 males and 877 females. The admissions during the year were 322 males and 325 females. There were 167 males and 231 females discharged, and 111 males and 45 females died during the same period. So that at the end of the year there were 1,274 males and 926 females remaining in the several establishments. These figures show an improvement on those of 1882, inasmuch as last year there were 188 fewer admissions than during the previous twelve months. This improvement was especially apparent in the males, as there were 218 fewer admissions last year than the year before, while the admissions of females increased by 30. There was, however, a falling off in the number of discharged, as only 527 left these institutions in 1883, as against 601 in 1882. The total amount received in aid of these institutions was £145,222. This sum was expended in maintainance, repairs, alterations, and additional buildings, including £62,821 the cost of erecting a new Lunatic Asylum at Callan Park. Hospitals for the Insane.

Under the head Miscellaneous there are 7 charitable institutions, 5 of which are supported entirely by voluntary contributions; the other 2, Infants' Home, Ashfield, and the Hospital for Sick Children, Glebe, received £1,737 from the Treasury, and £2,108 from voluntary contributions. Miscellaneous.

The total amount received on account of Charitable Institutions for the year 1883 was £302,117, of which £255,271 was provided by the Colonial Treasury, and £46,846 was raised by voluntary contributions, fees, &c.

On pages 10 and 11 will be found returns showing the number of Suicides during the year and the previous nine years, and also the number of cases of disease treated in the various gaols and police gaols during the year 1883. With reference to the Suicides, it will be found that the percentage as compared with the population has been gradually decreasing during the decennial period. The percentage in 1874 was 1·09 in every 10,000 of the population, and in 1883 it had fallen off to 0·68 in every 10,000 persons. Suicides.

On pages 12 to 14 are given decennial tables of the average rate of wages for the different classes of labour in the Colony, and the average prices of clothing and provisions. It is remarkable how few changes have been made in the rate of remuneration for artisans during the last few years. Rates of Wages, &c., Price of Provisions, &c. Clothing.

Sunday Schools.

The total number of children on the rolls of the various Sunday Schools throughout the Colony at the end of the year 1883 was 105,162, as against 102,141 in 1882, being an increase of 3,021 or 2·87 per cent. for the year. The average attendance is stated to be 77,815, or 74·0 per cent. of the number on the rolls. The number of Teachers engaged in the Sunday Schools was 9,793, comprising 3,969 males and 5,824 females, being an increase of 240 males and 363 females on the numbers of Teachers in 1882.

Private Schools.

The Private Schools have increased in number since 1882 from 491 to 588, and the scholars from 19,746 to 32,107, or at the rate of no less than 62·6 per cent. This extraordinary increase is accounted for by the fact that in the return of Private Schools are included several establishments which in 1882 ranked as Denominational Schools, and were numbered amongst those which received pecuniary aid from the State.

Cost of Public Instruction under the Department.

The amount expended under the Department of Public Instruction during the year was £821,853. The sum of £51,427 was received as fees and paid into the Treasury, so that the net cost of education under the Department was £770,426, an increase of £202,938 over the cost for 1882.

Public Instruction.

The number of scholars in the various schools under the Department of Public Instruction in 1883 was 155,824, as against 159,490 in 1882. There were also in that year 29,651 pupils in Denominational Schools, making a total of 189,141 under the Department, showing a falling off in the number of pupils in the Public Schools of 3,666 in addition to the Denominational pupils. The note at the foot of Return No. 21 explains the apparent discrepancy :—"Up to and inclusive of 1882 the annual gross enrolment or aggregate of attendances in schools under the Department of Public Instruction was given in the Statistical Return under the head of 'Numbers of Scholars'; but as the attendances of the same scholars at two, three, or more different schools in the year are counted separately in making up the gross enrolment, it follows that such enrolment must necessarily be largely in excess of the actual number of scholars. To prevent further misconception with regard to the numbers given, it is deemed advisable to furnish for 1883 the actual number of distinct individual scholars attending the schools in the year."

or

The number of Schools and Scholars under the Department of Public Instruction in the year 1883 is shown as under :—

	No. of Schools.	No. of Scholars.
High Schools and Public Schools ...	1,360	148,116
Provisional Schools	226	4,966
Half-time „	106	2,008
Evening „	23	734
Totals	1,715	155,824

Of these 155,824 scholars there were 80,709 males and 75,115 females, and they were superintended by 2,987 teachers—1,527 males and 1,460 females.

Number of pupils under tuition.

Taking the number of pupils in the Public Schools and those in the private schools, 32,107, we have a total of 187,931 scholars attending the various educational establishments in the Colony. This however does not represent the whole of the children under tuition. In 1881, when the Census was taken, there were 19,792 children being educated at home. Assuming that these children have increased at the same ratio as the population since 1881, there would be at the end of 1883 about 23,000 children being educated at home, making a total of about 212,900 pupils under tuition, exclusive of those who were being educated in the various Benevolent Institutions.

In the Orphan Schools, Asylum for Destitute Children, Deaf and Dumb and Blind Institution, and the Reformatories, there were 1,393 children receiving instruction, the cost of which is paid out of the Government funds contributed for the maintenance of those institutions. In 1882 there were 1,586 of these children, and in 1881 there were 1,592, so that it will be seen there has been a gradual diminution of the number of children in these charities during the last two years. This is particularly observable in the Orphan Schools, as in 1881 there were 548, and in 1883 they had been reduced to 419. In the Asylum for Destitute Children also the falling off during the same period has been from 662 to 612. The children in the Reformatories have increased from 304 to 362, and in the Deaf and Dumb Institution from 78 to 82.

Sydney University, Affiliated Colleges, and Sydney Grammar School.

The total cost to the State of the Sydney University, the Affiliated Colleges, and the Sydney Grammar School during the year 1883 was £20,288, and the sum of £16,446 was realized from voluntary contribution, fees, and other sources, making a total of £36,734. At the University there were 128 students, St. Paul's College 16, St. John's 8, St Andrew's 23, and at the Sydney Grammar School 402.

At page 21 is given a Decennial Return of the number of students at the University, the number of those who have gone up for examination, and the number of those who have passed. Another return shows the number of graduates during the last ten years ; and a third gives the annual receipts and expenditure since the year 1874 inclusive. The receipts for 1883 amounted to £19,649, and the expenditure to £19,769.

Art Gallery.

On page 22 is given a Return of the National Art Gallery, showing that the amount received from the Government in aid thereof to the 31st December, 1883, was £37,627. The total amount disbursed for works of art was £32,204. The total number of visitors from the day of opening, on the 22nd September, 1880, to the 31st December, 1881, was 140,266 ; during 1882, 209,468 ; and in 1883, 265,184 ; making a grand total of 614,918 visitors in 1,019 days upon which the gallery was open. The amount expended in wages, repairs, &c., was £3,095. The return shows the number and description of the various works of art purchased, and a column is devoted to a description of the presentations which have enriched the gallery.

Australian Museum.

The amount received from the Government in aid of the Australian Museum for 1883 was £8,900, and the expenditure was £9,052, of which sum £5,944 was paid for purchases and £3,108 for salaries and wages. The number of visitors during the year was 86,114 on week days and 51,287 on Sundays; total, 137,401 ; as against 134,041 in 1882. The attendance increased by 4,518 persons on the week days, but decreased by 1,158 on Sundays in 1883, as compared with the previous year.

The Free Public Library.

The number of visits recorded to the Free Public Library during 1883 was 155,431, as against 135,731 in 1882, showing an increase of nearly 20,000. The number of volumes, pamphlets, &c., in the Library at the end of the year was 59,554, being an increase of 4,617 during the twelve months. The number of volumes presented during the year was 404, of the estimated value of £70. This makes a total of 3,933 volumes, of the value of £1,940, which have been given to the institution. The amount received from the Government in aid of the Library, exclusive of salaries and maintenance, was £3,084 during the year.

Schools of Art, Public Libraries, &c.

Return No. 30, on pages 24 to 27, shows that there are 125 Schools of Art and Public Libraries in the Colony. At the close of the year 1882 they numbered 79, by which it will be seen that vast strides have been made in this direction during the year 1883. The return gives the names of the institutions, the dates upon which they were first opened, whether the property is freehold or leasehold, the cost of erection of buildings, the amounts received from the Government and from private contributions during the year, the number of volumes in each institution, and the total number of visits paid to them during 1883.

Crime.

Gaols.

The remaining portion of Part II of the Register refers to the crime of the Colony. Returns Nos. 31 and 32 show the number of prisoners received into the various gaols of the Colony during the year 1883 to have been 18,566, comprising 14,049 males and 4,517 females. Of this number, 28 were debtors—27 males and 1 female; 2,454, viz., 2,128 males and 326 females, were under committal for trial; 679—585 males and 94 females, in transitu; and 15,405—11,309 males and 4,096 females, were under various sentences. Of the total number of males received 86·50 per cent. could read and write, 2·96 per cent. could read only, and 10·54 per cent. were unable to read. Of the females received, 83·34 per cent. could read and write, 3·85 per cent. could read only, and 12·81 per cent. were unable to read. The remaining part of the same table refers to the nationalities and religions of the prisoners, by which it would appear that of the male portion—

Education of prisoners.

Nationalities of prisoners.

4,867	or 34·67 per cent.	were Australian-born.
3,793	„ 27·00 „	born in England and Wales.
3,079	„ 21·91 „	„ Ireland.
967	„ 6·88 „	„ Scotland.
1,344	„ 9·54 „	„ other countries.

Of the female portion—

1,769	or 39·17 per cent	Australians.
779	„ 17·25 „	England and Wales.
1,677	„ 37·13 „	Ireland.
227	„ 5·03 „	Scotland.
64	„ 1·42 „	other countries.

When the Census was taken in 1881, the various nationalities in proportion to the total population was as follows :—

Of the male population—

63·05	per cent. were Australian-born.
17·21	„ England and Wales.
8·88	„ Ireland.
3·85	„ Scotland.
7·01	„ other countries.

Of the female population—

74·25	per cent. Australian.
11·72	„ England and Wales.
9·60	„ Ireland.
2·72	„ Scotland.
1·71	„ other countries.

Assuming that these proportions have not materially changed in the interim, we find that the Australian-born are by far the least criminal, as will be seen by the above figures, for while they comprise more than two-thirds of the total population they form but little more than one-third of the criminal class. Leaving out decimals, we find that there are :—

Of the males—

	In every 100 of the population.	In every 100 prisoners.
Australian-born	63	35
England and Wales	17	27
Ireland	9	22
Scotland	4	7
Other countries	7	9

Of

Of the females there are—

	In every 100 of the population.	In every 100 prisoners.
Australian	74	39
England and Wales	12	17
Ireland	9	37
Scotland	3	5
Other countries	2	2

While by the above the Australian-born are shown to stand highest in the scale of morality, the natives of Ireland are the lowest.

Religion of prisoners.

Of the the religions of the male prisoners—

7,104 or 50·56 per cent. were Protestants.
6,612 „ 47·06 „ „ Roman Catholics.
334 „ 2·38 „ belonged to other persuasions.

Of the females—

2,019 or 44·71 per cent. were Protestants
2,471 „ 54·72 „ Roman Catholics.
26 „ 0·57 „ other persuasions.

Taking the whole of the male population—

68·37 per cent. were Protestants.
26·40 „ „ Roman Catholics.
5·23 „ „ other persuasions.

Of the female population—

69·17 per cent. were Protestants.
29·11 „ „ Roman Catholics.
1·72 „ „ other persuasions.

Leaving out decimals, we have of the males—

	In every 100 of the population.	In every 100 prisoners.
Protestants	68	51
Roman Catholics...	27	47
Other persuasions	5	2

Of the females—

	In every 100 of the population.	In every 100 prisoners.
Protestants	69	45
Roman Catholics...	29	54
Other persuasions	2	1

By the above figures it will be seen that while the Protestants form nearly seven-tenths of the total population, they only contribute about one-half to the criminal class. The Roman Catholics, who comprise about three-tenths of the total population, contribute fully one-half to the criminal class, as shown in table No. 36.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

Imports and Exports.

The first Return, No. 48, on pages 74 and 75, shows the total value of the Imports and Exports of the Colony during the year 1883, by which it will be seen that the total value of the Imports was £20,960,157, and of the Exports was £19,886,018. In 1882 the value of the Imports amounted to £21,281,130, and the Exports to £16,716,961, so that there was a decrease in the Imports to the value of £320,973, and an increase in the Exports to the value of £3,169,057. The increase in in the value of the total trade of the Colony amounted to £2,848,084. The Imports per head of the estimated mean population was £24 18s. 8d., and the Exports £23 13s. 2d.; so that the total trade per head of the population was £48 11s. 10d.

Imports.

The following table shows the values of the Imports from the United Kingdom, British Possessions, and Foreign States for the years 1881, 1882, and 1883:—

	£17,409,326	£21,281,130	£20,960,157

By the above figures it will be seen that, although there was a small falling off in the value of the Imports between 1882 and 1883, there was an increase of over three and a half millions since 1881.

Of the value of Imports in 1883 the British Colonies produced £8,409,911. The following Foreign States supplied the greater portion of the remaining Imports:—

Produce and Manufacture of the Colony.

On page 171, Return No. 55 gives the decennial abstract of the total value of articles exported the produce or manufacture of the Colony, by which it will be seen that there has been a steady increase from year to year, with the exception of the years 1878 and 1879, when there was a slight decrease. In 1874 the value of articles exported was £12,345,603; in 1883 the value had risen to £19,886,018, being an increase in the decade of £7,540,415, or 61 per cent., or at the average rate of over 5 per cent. per annum. The greatest increase has, however, been during the last year, being nearly 19 per cent.

Tables 56 and 57 are Decennial Returns of Live Stock imported into and exported from the Colony. The total value of the stock imported during the decade was £2,168,422, and of that exported was £8,952,257, the excess of value in favour of exports being £6,783,835.

The Decennial Return No. 58, of the value and quantity of Wool exported from and the produce of the Colony, shows a very large increase in the decade. The quantity has increased from 75 million lbs. in 1874 to over 188 million lbs. in 1883; and the value has nearly doubled, namely, from £5,010,125 to £9,598,761. Of the latter amount Great Britain absorbed Wool to the value of £6,027,919. Victoria was the recipient of £2,496,610 worth, most of which was no doubt sent via Melbourne to Great Britain.

The total number was 3,111, employing 33,399 hands—31,003 males and 2,396 females. This does not, however, show nearly the total number of artisans and mechanics who were employed in the Colony, inasmuch as there are a vast number of both sexes engaged in various trades which are not included in this return.

The following table shows the number of Works and Manufactories in 1883, and the number of hands employed in connection with the various industries included in the Return No. 75 :—

* The following statement will explain the apparent discrepancy between the "number of scholars" as returned for 1882, and the same return as furnished for 1883:—Up to and inclusive of 1882 the annual "gross enrolment" or "aggregate of attendances" in Schools under the Department of Public Instruction was given in the Statistical Return under the head of "Number of Scholars"; but as the attendances of the same scholars at two, three, or more different schools in the year are counted separately in making up the "gross enrolment," it follows that such enrolment must necessarily be largely in excess of the actual "number of scholars." To prevent further misconception with regard to the numbers given, it is deemed advisable to furnish for 1883 the actual number of distinct individual scholars attending the schools in the year.

MEMO.—It will be observed that the proportion of felonies to misdemeanours is larger in the Return for the year than in that for last year. This is to a great extent accounted for by the fact that, in the Criminal Law Amendment Act, which came into force on 1st July of last year, a large number of offences formerly classed as misdemeanours are now classed as felonies.

FITZ ROY DRY DOCK, COCKATOO ISLAND.

Conditions.

All vessels belonging to H. M. Navy, the Colonial Government, and men-of-war of other nations, will be admitted to repair in the Fitz Roy Dock, Sydney Harbour, free of any dock dues or rates, but they will be required to repay all actual expenditure of stores, wages, and material.

All other vessels will be liable to a minimum dock-rate of 6d. per ton per diem, if of 1,500 tons register or upwards, and an additional $\frac{1}{20}$th of a penny per ton for every decrease of 50 tons or portion of 50 tons down to a maximum rate of 9d. per ton for a vessel of 300 tons, and all below, as set forth in the scale attached hereto.

Double rates will be charged for the day of docking.

The Dock dues will include and cover the cost of pumping, shoring, wedges, and blocking, and the cost of all labour connected with opening and closing the Dock, and all incidental labour connected with the actual operation of docking a vessel.

No vessel will be permitted to enter the Dock with gunpowder or combustible ammunition on board.

Governor and Executive Council .. — Governor and Executive Council .. — 30 Aug., 1861.

Workshops and Machinery.

Vessels in Dock and private engineering establishments will be permitted to avail themselves of any portion of the machinery of the Dockyard workshops on payment of a rate per hour; preference being always given to the requirements of a vessel in Dock. These charges will be in addition to Dock dues, and in accordance with the rates mentioned in the subjoined Schedule.

The rate for the machinery will include the cost of putting and maintaining the machine in motion, the use of the 20-ton overhead traversing crane, and all tools belonging to the Machine in use, but nothing further.
